Varied views show R.H.S. in perspective

One day at Randolph is often much the same as any, but it manages to have a character that sets it apart. The details are the same — homeroom, classes, lunch period, meetings after school — but some particular feature, an assembly, a Track meet, the day of the Dramatics Club play, the voting for Mr. and Mrs. R. H. S. marks each day as separate in our memories.

No single image defines

No single image defines our school. Randolph High is a cacophony of activities, studies, athletics, and personalities. The serious atmosphere of classrooms exemplifies the diligence and intellectual pursuit of its students. Scholastic achievement is recognized as an integral part of life at R. H. S.

The enthusiastic pursuit of extracurricular activities personifies the individual pride each student takes in R. H. S. The exuberance of our cheerleaders, the diligence of our newspaper staff, and the many programs sponsored by our clubs show the strong attitude of participation at

R. H. S.

The athletic program at R. H. S. illustrates the pursuit of physical excellence as well as academic achievement. Our athletes compete on a basis of sportsmanship and fair play, combined with their will to win. Through athletics our students are taught teamwork, co-operation, and responsibility. This is another aspect of R. H. S.

Randolph High School is a melting pot for extremely different students. But here they learn to live and work in harmony. It is here that personalities are mixed, lasting friendships made, and futures decided.

Growth and change mark our years

Now, as seniors, we will soon be leaving the familiar halls of R. H. S.; but our 4 years here have been profitable ones. Have the naive freshmen of 1963 changed any? We certainly have. Not only have we become older, but also more mature, responsible, and better equipped to face the problems of life before us. What we have learned here will serve us in the future. It is part of our growth and development during our years at R. H. S.

Activities present a wider perspective

To complement its curriculum, R. H. S. offers a wide range of activities for the interest and enjoyment of the student body. At 2:30 the atmosphere at R. H. S. becomes one of enthusiastic participation in extra-curricular activities. Students take advantage of these available activities and pursue them as another perspective of R. H. S.

Most of the occupations and professions for which our students are preparing require a high degree of skill in speaking effectively and in understanding difficult and technical reading material. Therefore, the English department is trying to assist the students at Randolph High School with the mastery of these skills.

A second goal which the English department is striving to attain is the transmission of the cultural heritage of the English speaking people—a heritage which is reflected in the literature of our culture, the works of creative, imaginative, and sensitive men who are concerned with man as man and what he has done, what he dreamed and felt and thought, and what he hopes to do.

The English program also offers the student the potential of self-education and development outside and beyond the classroom and formal schooling. Our English staff is trying to develop the students' habits of reading for pleasure and knowledge and the desire to sharpen and improve his ability to communicate and to understand so that these habits persists for a lifetime.

Mr. Richard Kaegael works on a report to his teachers.

During the past decade significant changes have occurred in foreign language instruction. Language teachers began to realize that the traditional approach to teaching modern foreign languages was not good enough because students were not developing the four basic language skills well enough, nor in the logical sequence.

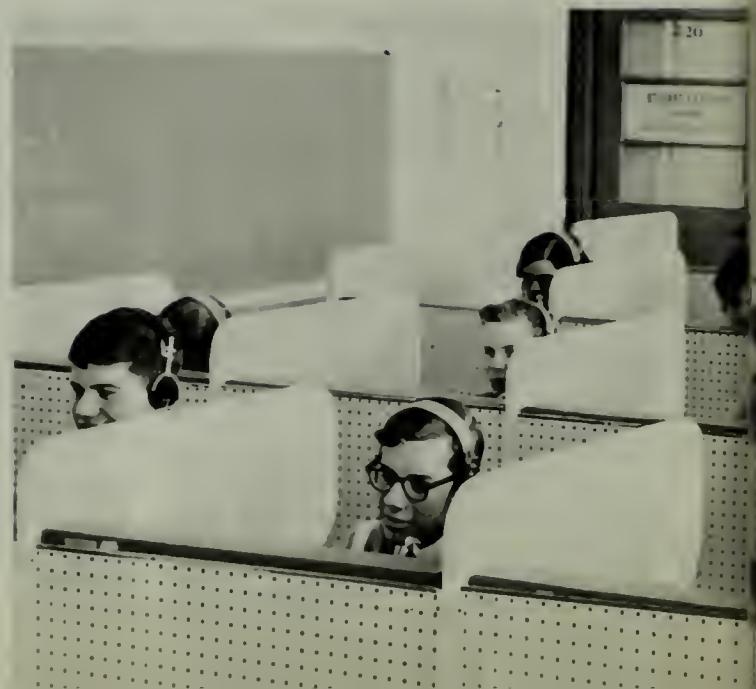

The new approach aims, immediately and throughout, at communication. The kind that takes place when one speaker faces another and when a writer addresses a reader. Thus the four skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing in that order—became the four basic objectives of foreign language teaching.

In Randolph and in many school systems the ideal is to develop the skills of listening and speaking during the beginning years of language study and the skills of reading and writing during the latter years with a six-year sequence providing the optimum language-learning sequence.

Anticipating The Future By

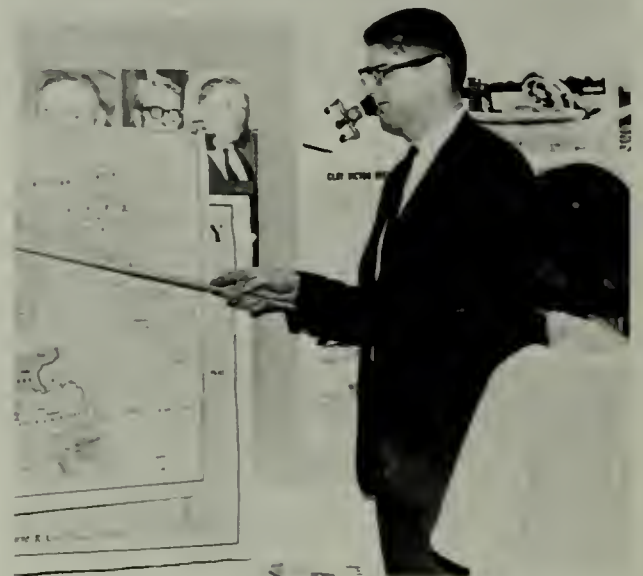

Mr. Louis Rizzo lectures on basic elements of a prosperous nation.

In the ever-changing world of today, the value of history continually increases. The future is gauged by the past. The Social Studies Department aims at exploring man's relationship to his environment, both past and present.

An appreciation of democratic principles is sought by the teaching of the early growth of the American and world societies. Then, too, a comprehensive understanding of local, state and national government is developed, as it affects and will affect students in becoming responsible and well-informed citizens.

Through the use of films, records, field trips, and a model Congress, the social studies come alive in Randolph High School. It is the goal of this department to instill in all students a bent towards a good and enduring interest in human problems and human achievement.

CLASSES

Dominating The

From the sophomore to the senior years, the students, the people who walk the corridors and learn the subject matter, dominate our high school scene. Many of them may be found in these pages. Although everyone is a member of a class, he is a part of a more important whole—the school. Here, through the medium of the printed page, we may relive the memories we shared.

Fellow Classmates!

After four years of hard work,
good times, and treasured memories,
we are going to leave R.H.S.

to take on the challenges of the world.

Will we be prepared to stand up
and be counted?

The answer depends upon the individual.

Whether we succeed will depend upon the degree of effort applied
and whether we use
the basic tools
which were given to us
by our high school teachers.

The future lies ahead!

The world is ours!

There is much
to be had materially,
and much to give
toward improvement.

Let us make
the Class of 1967,
a class which becomes famous for its contributions to society and the world.

Congratulations

Sophomores Adjust Quickly...

It has not taken the Sophomore class long to adjust to the routine of the Senior High School. New surroundings, studies, and activities helped to bring maturity to the young-looking sophomores who entered Randolph High School last September. Now is the time for them to begin considering what they want to accomplish. Plans for the future must be formulated. With guidance and perseverance, the Sophomores will reach their goals.

ACTIVITIES

Developing Talents of Activities present a wide perspective. The informal socializing after school hours makes students aware of backgrounds and interests other than their own and tends to broaden their depth of human understanding. The variety of social, cultural, and intellectual activities offered at Randolph High School, not only provide an opportunity for communication with fellow students, but also develop the talents of leadership and labor in the individual. Whether participating for relaxation, mental stimulation or practical experience, all are able to find an activity to meet their needs and interests.

Leadership and Labor

The voice of student government at Randolph High School is the Student Council. As spokesmen and leaders, they provide an instrument of mutual understanding between the student body and the administration. The best indication of success is their achievement. Continued good relations with the school are an important accomplishment for which the Student Council can take no little credit.

N.H.S. Recognizes Outstanding Qualities

The Joseph W. Daly Chapter is the local organization representing the National Honor Society.

The Society's purpose is based on the four qualities of Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. While membership is determined by the possession and application of these qualities, it is also felt that the Society serves to further develop these attributes, not only among the immediate membership, but also among the entire student body.

Relative to Service, the members of the local Chapter have taken upon themselves the task of organizing and staffing the Randolph High School Book Store.

At present, the Chapter is made up of 14 members, 9 from the Class of 1967, and 5 from the Class of 1968.

Oracle Staff Records Year's Events

The Oracle is the final result of months of confusion and cooperation, of frantic hurry and friendly collaboration, and of persistent worry and personal sacrifice. The details of the yearbook, the layout, the innumerable bits of copy, the typing, the pictures, and collecting money—present a formidable task, accomplished by the efforts of the entire staff.

A special treat for Oracle Editors is the trip to New York City and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention.

Banner Editors Strive For Literary Excellence

Mr. James Santry checks the Banner's profits.

This year the Blue & White Banner has reflected the school spirit which has pervaded all R. H. S. activities. In spite of disastrous deadlines, twelve A.M. sessions, and last-minute meetings, The Banner has met with great journalistic and financial success. The student body's attitude that the Banner is their paper has made this possible. Adding to this success was the official recognition of the Banner as a superior student paper by the New England Student Paper Association, participation in the Globe Conferences, and the trip to New York and Columbia University.

A. Saltzburg, D. Landau, H. Kelly, N. Bell critically analyze their latest issue.

Knowledge Available To All

Under the direction of Mrs. Maura Graham, the library has developed a well-organized system. Mrs. Graham heads a staff of students who work during their free periods and after school. The library contains a wide variety of information which is made readily available to the faculty and students of Randolph High School.

Mrs. Maura Graham checks out a magazine for Mary Brennan.

Much time and work goes into creating attractive and educational bulletin boards.

Awards Assembly

Eagerly Awaited

Each year the student body eagerly anticipated the Achievement Award Assembly. The names of the winners are kept secret until the day of the assembly. A statuette, a symbol of highest achievement in a particular subject, is given to the student who has worked most diligently in a particular subject.

In addition, a statuette is given to outstanding teachers or members of the community. Last year the winners of this award were Mr. Hubert Gilgan, our retiring principal; Miss Eleanor Brewster and Mrs. Elizabeth Tierney, two retiring members of the High School faculty.

Merry Turner receives an award from Mr. Ted Pina.

Future Teachers Sponsor Service Activities

The Future teachers Club was organized in 1960 by its adviser, Miss Martha Foley. The club has succeeded in its purpose to arouse the interest of students in the various aspects of the teaching profession. Some past members are now teaching in Randolph and in nearby cities and towns. One vice-president, Bill Cottle, is now president of the senior class at Bridgewater State College. Another president, Steve Dlott, is studying to become a guidance counselor at Tufts University.

In order to investigate the various aspects of teaching, the club visits various special schools such as The Boston School for the Deaf and Canton School for Crippled Children. They visit colleges preparing students for teaching such as Boston College, Boston University, and Bridgewater State College. They invite authorities in various fields of education to lecture. Club members, themselves, are participants in panel discussions on teachers and teaching.

In addition the club also sponsors service activities. One is the Teachers' Helpers Program; another, this year, is the sending of The Blue & White Banner to former graduates now in Viet Nam. The Banner organization is providing the papers.

The club states in its constitution the aims of the group, "To learn about teaching, to examine myself as a prospective teacher, to have a good time as a group with common purposes."

THE DRAMATICS CLUB

The Dramatics Club enriches the cultural and social lives of its members. This year, new members were welcomed at the annual Halloween mixer which combined dancing and original skits. Later the large yet lively group attended the production of The Taming of the Shrew at Natick.

In December, the club sponsored the memorable Christmas assembly and held auditions for its spring play, Anastasia.

Future Homemakers Fill Busy Schedule

The Future Homemakers is a national organization open to all high school girls. Each year, members of local chapters work on various projects such as brotherhood programs, splash parties, and good will projects. This year the national convention will be held in California. Therefore a member of F.H.A. may have the opportunity to attend. Chapter President, Barbara Dixon, attended this convention last year. She returned with many new and exciting ideas for F.H.A. which she is actually using this year.

Marching, Dance Bands Provide

Frank Malfa and Richie Grosky pause for a joke during band rehearsal.

Lee Diauto proves herself to be a very competent band director during Student Teacher Day.

DANCE BAND

The Dance Band rehearses once a week after school under the direction of Mr. Richard Rubino. This is to provide the opportunity for any instrumentalist interested in playing dance music. Interpretation, phrasing, literature, and improvisation are all studied at this time. This period is open to all students interested; therefore, there are doubling parts. When the organization plays for a dance or concert, the students are chosen to perform, and each part is covered by one person. The arrangements are written in the style of the big band, although some time is spent on the requirements of combos. This organization aims to give students the experience necessary to compete in the dance band field.

Top-Flight Entertainment

Drum Majorette Karen Michaelson leads the band during a half-time show.

The band rehearses five times a week, three of these being during school. During football season the band performs at all half-time shows, and at different occasions has been invited to perform for the Boston Patriots and Boston University. The band performs for several concerts throughout the year and marches in parades at various holidays.

The main objective of the band is to give instrumental experience on all types of music to these young musicians. Band also participates in many district and state competitions. This organization develops both musicianship and good social habits.

Music Festivals Include R.H.S. Chorus

THE CHORUS

The Chorus meets twice a week during school and performs many types of musical compositions ranging from classical choral compositions to popular music. The chorus is maintained for performance and also for a cultural background in music. Students are given the advantage to develop their natural voices and also to increase their interests in composers, periods of music, and musical form. The Chorus sings at the annual Christmas concert, the Spring concert, and annually puts on a selected Broadway Musical. They are also given the opportunity for musical growth by being eligible to participate competitively in various musical festivals. In this way they are given the opportunity to perform with selected vocalists from other communities.

ATHLETICS

Based Upon Sound And

Randolph's athletic program, based upon sound, constructive principles, is an integral part of the total educational experience. The pursuit of excellence is maintained on the athletic field as well as in the classroom. Although physical in their manifestations, athletics are also conducive to creating mental, social, and moral stimuli. Our gymnasium and athletic fields not only enhance physical fitness, but also create an environment where personality changes take place and human resources are cultivated.

Constructive Principles

The Blue Devils Win

This year's football team at Randolph High School, by giving the school its first undefeated season since 1945, achieved more than just the Old Colony League Championship. Not many athletes are fortunate enough to have been members of an unbeaten team. The real significance of the team's accomplishments will grow and be realized and appreciated as the years go by. These boys have won a place in the minds and hearts of those who are near the Randolph football scene.

1966 was a year of fulfillment. The team, comprised mainly of seniors. In their final year, they were destined for greatness, and they were not to be denied. The lessons they learned in defeat served them well. We hope the lessons they learned in victory will also serve them well as they leave the gridiron for the playing field of life.

Team Spirits Highlights Season

VARSITY BASKETBALL

This year's Randolph Blue Devils jumped to a good start in the Old Colony League, but they were quickly demoralized after a last second one-point defeat the second game of the season. Lack of experience and weak rebounding were the main causes of the many defeats suffered by the Blue Devils this year. The bulk of the scoring was achieved by Junior Captain Steve Gass with senior John Olson continually providing the outside scoring threat. Senior Mark Abramson and Mal Gale gave strong scoring and rebounding support throughout the season. Pete Konary and Mark Lit, both seniors, provided excellent hustle and attitude.

With many fine juniors returning to the squad, especially Captain Gass, and also "Buster" Marzinzik and Butch Hendrickson, next year appears to be a bright spot in R. H. S. basketball.

WINTER TRACK

This past winter has once again been successful in showing the power and determination of the Randolph track team. In a tough Division II, they ran their way to a third straight undefeated season. It was the 21st straight win since entering the Met League. Following this splendid display of talent, they proceeded to enter and win the all-division meet of the Met League and finish second in the Class C State Meet. Outstanding performers include seniors Ed Heywood, 50 yard dash man, Gerry Spellman, high hurdles, and Eliot Stevens in the 600.

Prospects for next year once more appear to be on the bright side with many junior members returning to the squad.

During the past cross-country season, Randolph entered the Old Colony League as it had left the Hockomock League — undefeated champion. Co-captains Mike Small and Elliot Stevens along with junior Bob Jayes and senior Paul Porter easily trounced the league, establishing records at every away meet. Recording times on our course only bettered by Arthur Dulong, Small and Jayes jointly recorded the second fastest mark. A new coach, Northeastern's Malcolm Hill, in his inaugural season, prodded his runners to cop both the Varsity and Junior Varsity titles at the Old Colony League Meet.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Randolph finished in a tie for third place in the Hockomock League with a record of 10-6. The veteran R. H. S. team lost three one-run games late in the season to end their chances for a league title. Graduated seniors include all-league pitcher Paul Dower and co-captains Bill Strong and Bob Favreau. This year's team will be built around several returning starters including catcher Jim Maloney, pitchers John Davock, John Malone and Steve Gass along with Steve Allen at first base and "Bimbo" Spiro and Ron Ericson who had outstanding first seasons last year.

Mr. William Gould has taken over the coaching duties this year replacing Mr. Francis C. O'Brien, Jr., the extremely popular and successful Randolph coach for many years. This is Randolph's first season in the Old Colony League and is looked upon with enthusiasm by players and coaches alike.

Senior tennis players: B. Keeler, R. Gray, E. Morse, R. DeSisto.

The tennis team had a four (4) and seven (7) record last year. The coach, Mr. Ronald Mavor, considers "That's good" with only three veterans back. With Seniors Mark Bornstein, Captain, Mitchell Goodhue, Douglass Campbell, and a newcomer William Trostel, they played well.

While the Juniors, Edward Golob, this year's Captain, Robert Gray, and Robert DeSisto will give this year's team depth. And with many underclassmen showing promise, the team is looking for a good season.

CHEERLEADERS

Leading the student body in support of its teams are twelve cheerleaders. Because of their undaunted dedication, school spirit has boomed this year. Whatever the weather, they can be found encouraging the players and exciting spirit in the crowds. They display great precision, pep, and agility in every cheer, gained through many hours of practice. Everyone will remember them for their original and amusing stunts at our successful football rallies.

Captain M. Turner gives a victory cheer.
